No smoking plan ignites union anger

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A POLICY which will ban Luton council employees from smoking during the working day has been slammed by Union representatives.

Last week Luton on Sunday revealed that the new guidelines, which would prevent employees and elected members from lighting up while on council business, had been approved by the authority's executive and is expected to come into force in October 2014.

But since then, union representatives have contacted us to say that they are concerned about the plans which they have branded 'vague' and 'impossible to police'.

Jimmy Cummings, a senior Unite representative based at Luton council, said: "I have lots of questions about this policy including how it can possibly be implemented."

"There has been no information about where and when employees may be able to smoke, or what penalties the employees face if they are caught breaking the rules."

"The council document says that the unions have supported this policy but this isn't the case – we haven't agreed any policy as yet."

"We have said we are willing to work with the council going forward but we haven't seen a proposal that we can back."

"The council seem to be rushing too far forward with this policy without planning any of the details."

However a council spokesman claims that a proposal which was submitted jointly by the authority and the Trade Unions was approved on Tuesday, August 27.

The spokesman said: "It was agreed that an amended smoking policy be put in place where employees and elected members may not smoke during the working day and whilst on council business from October 2014."

"Public health will develop a programme of health promotion and support for staff and elected members who wish to stop smoking in the twelve months prior to this policy coming into place."

"Advice will be given to staff who do not want to stop smoking on how to use licensed nicotine-containing products to help them abstain during the working day. Further dialogue and consultation will take place with the unions to establish the detail of the policy prior to implementation in October 2014."

As well as improving the health of employees, it is hoped that the introduction of the guidelines will reduce smoking related costs due to lost productivity through sickness absence and unrecorded smoking breaks.

The idea of the scheme has divided LoS readers, with Judy Spelman on Facebook saying: "I agree they shouldn't nip out when they are working, but during tea and lunch breaks they can do what the like."

However, Stephanie Ellroy tweeted: "Bonkers, what will it be next? No LBC employee will be allowed to be seen eating junk food amid health fears?"

"What about human rights and not forgetting that smoking is an addiction?"

Suspended sentence for care worker Ndoro

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

DISGRACED care worker Jackie Ndoro narrowly escaped going to prison after neglecting a resident in a care home who was left on the floor for an hour when he collapsed.

Albert Riches, aged 86, who suffered from dementia was prone to falling after suffering mini strokes.

After falling over, he called for help, but was ignored.

A colleague of Miss Ndoro even tapped his leg and then swept around his body. When Ndoro appeared she and the other woman pulled him up by the scruff of the neck and 'dumped him on a wheelchair'.

On Friday, Ndoro 38, of Bodmin Road, Luton, appeared for sentence at Luton Crown Court where earlier this summer she was found guilty of a charge of neglect of a person who lacks of capacity.

Mr Riches has since died.

At the trial prosecutor Isabel Delamare said the elderly man was heard to say: "I am sorry" as the women were pulling him up.

She said the two workers should have used a hoist to lift Mr Riches into the chair, but they could not be bothered to fetch it.

Ms Delamare said that Ndoro and her colleague were already under suspicion by the manager of The Limes Home in the High Street, Henlow, Beds because of concerns about their work.

As a result a CCTV camera was installed to keep an eye on the pair. A recording showed Mr Riches walking round the lounge before falling on the floor.

Another woman did nothing to help him and swept her broom around him before the women pulled him into the wheelchair.

The prosecutor continued: "The CCTV showed Ndoro sitting down at 1am. Her feet were up and she was sleeping between 1am and 5am."

She should have been carrying out two hourly checks on the 23 residents.

Giving evidence, Ndoro admitted she fell asleep during her shift, but denied she neglected Mr Riches.

She told the jury: "I knew he was vulnerable but I didn't think he had fallen. But I did care that's why I got the wheelchair."

Ndoro was given a four-month prison sentence which was suspended for 12 months. She was also placed on supervision for six months and was told she must carry out unpaid work.

MP calls for action over workers' falling wages

GAVIN Shaker, MP for Luton South, has criticised the government's approach to living standards, claiming that Lutonians are on average £1,033 worse off per year.

The research, carried out by the Trade Union Congress, compares the average hourly rate in 2007, in terms of 2012 prices, and the average hourly rate in 2012. In Luton, an average earner is 50 pence worse off every hour they work compared to five years previous.

Mr Shaker said: "At a time when millionaires are enjoying the tax break given to them by this government, other people are just not seeing the rewards of their hard work in their pocket."

"We are seeing the cost of living soar as energy bills continue to rise and families struggle to put food on the table."

Labour MPs called a debate on living standards on Wednesday during an opposition day debate. Many MPs pressed the government to introduce a Living Wage, and rethink its approach to issues such as rail fares and childcare costs.

BEWARE OF THIEVES ON TRAINS

BRITISH Transport Police has revealed the tactics thieves are using to steal passengers' belongings on trains between London and Bedfordshire.

The information forms part of Operation Magnum, a nationwide campaign to help rail passengers keep valuables safe from gadget-grabbers and luggage thieves.

As part of the initiative, officers have issued video clips to help the travelling public spot 13 tricks that thieves use.

Detective Inspector Chris Neeson said: "By showing the tactics we hope passengers will become more and more protective over their belongings."

Two arrested after shots fired at home

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWO people have been arrested after officers executed four search warrants at various locations in Luton following a shooting.

The pre-planned raids – which took place in Briar Close, The Drummonds (Dunstable Road), Tower Court (Tower Road) and The Maggies – began during the early hours and were a response shots being fired at a house in Devon Road on Wednesday, September 4.

The incident happened at around 9pm as a woman in the house was settling in for the night having put her children to bed.

Voices were heard first, followed by the sound of a shotgun being fired. Two male offenders then made off on a motorcycle towards Crawley Green Road.

Following the execution of the warrants, two males – aged 21 and 17 – were both arrested on suspicion of possession of a firearm with intent to cause fear of violence, on suspicion of conspiracy to cause criminal damage and on suspicion of affray.

Both were due to be questioned by detectives on Friday.

Detective Inspector Iain Morgan, said: "Following the incident which took place in Devon Road on Wednesday night we received some very important information from witnesses and members of the community which enabled us to execute these warrants and make two arrests.

SHOOTING: Police were called to Devon Road in Luton on Wednesday evening

"I continue to appeal to anyone who has information about the offence that took place in Devon Road or from anyone who was in or near the area at the time and recalls hearing or seeing a motorcycle or the offenders before or after the offence."

Wednesday's incident is not believed to be related to the wider on-going gun crime in Luton.

Anyone with information about gun crime can contact detectives on the direct confidential reporting line 01582 394281, or use the 24-hour non-emergency number 101.

New homes plan gets a green light

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAJOR residential, commercial and community development on greenbelt land north of Houghton Regis has been granted outline planning permission by Central Bedfordshire Council's Development Management Committee.

The scheme, which was put forward by the Houghton Regis Development Consortium, comprises 5,150 homes and 216,200 sqm of buildings supporting employment, retail, leisure and community facilities including a care home.

Forming part of the larger Houghton Regis North extension proposed in the council's emerging Development Strategy, the permission will deliver a big proportion of the 7,000 homes identified for this area to meet growing housing and employment needs.

Central Bedfordshire councillor Nigel Young said: "This decision marks a significant milestone in our plans to meet identified housing needs for the next generation and to stimulate economic growth across southern Bedfordshire, cementing our position as a great location for innovation and opportunity and will create thousands of new jobs.

"The principle of promoting growth through an extension of Houghton Regis was first established ten years ago and this has informed our planning assumptions that this application has followed.

"There has been a lot of consultation with residents both on the principle and detail of this development and we have worked hard with the developers through the Environmental Statement and the Planning Agreement to ensure the best deal for those living nearest to the development and for the wider community."

There have been a number of objectors to the plans, including the Quadrant shopping centre in Dunstable who claim the plans could take away trade from the town centre, and Luton Borough Council, who have argued it should be able to house people from its waiting lists in half on the affordable homes on the large site.

However, the plans were approved unanimously by the committee at a meeting on Wednesday. The application is now expected to be submitted to the Secretary of State by the end of this month.

Fresh look for town street

GUILDFORD Street has been given a new look, complete with hedge, railings and postbox – but the closer you get the more you may see it's all an illusion!

The new facade is the latest idea from the creatively-led collective Made in Luton and the Town Team, to help improve business in the area.

This follows the clean up day in July that attracted almost 90 volunteers and cleared 11 tonnes of rubbish and earth.

Mark Broadhead, chairman of the Town Team, said: "This is the first of many projects we hope to deliver that will enhance the town centre."

The facade has delighted businesses on the street, including the owners of the public house The Wheelwright Arms, who said: "We can now place a few chairs outside and not be worried how to make an excuse for the fence. We have even seen people put their hand in the postbox to see if it's real!"

A MAN was transported to hospital by air ambulance on Thursday, following an incident at Luton Indoor Market.

Police were called to the Halal Meat Centre at 11.50am after receiving reports of a man with a serious head injury. The man was taken to the L&D hospital.

Police have charged Mohammed Ghazanfor, of Summerfield Road, Luton with GBH in relation to the incident.

After appearing at Luton Magistrates' Court on Friday, he has been remanded in custody until he appears at Luton Crown Court on Monday, December 2.

Drug dealers are jailed for 10 years

BY JULIA SUTTON

editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWO drug dealers were jailed for more than 10 years at Luton Crown Court on Wednesday.

Gulfraz Parvaz and Nikki O'Dell were followed by undercover police after heroin with a street value of between £300,000 and £600,000 was handed over.

Prosecutor Daniel Siong told Luton Crown Court that the officers were watching Parvaz's address in Ingram Gardens, Luton on the evening of Wednesday, May 29 this year.

At 7.20pm they saw Parvaz drive off in a BMW 5 series car while O'Dell left in a van.

Parvaz was stopped on the A6 Barton Road.

A bag with cash was found in the BMW, which contained £56,000.

O'Dell's van was stopped on Toddington Road, where two blocks of heroin, weighing 1.98 kilos, were seized.

Mr Siong said the heroin could have made them up to £600,000 from street deals.

Parvaz, 38, of Kennington Road, Luton and O'Dell, 35, of Sycamore Road, Houghton Regis pleaded guilty to conspiracy to supply Class A drugs. Toby Long, defending Parvaz, said he was acting under the direction of others. For O'Dell, Richard Storey asked for credit for his guilty plea.

Judge Richard Foster jailed Parvez for six years and O'Dell for four years eight months.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows.

The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Former noodle bar owner fined £9,380

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE former owner of How Cha Noodle Bar has been fined over £9,000 for serious breaches of hygiene regulations during the last year.

When a passer-by spotted a rat in the How Cha Noodle Bar on Chapel Street, Luton in July 2012, an immediate investigation by a council food safety officer revealed a large infestation and no pest control procedures in place.

Surfaces and utensils were not properly cleaned and food was not protected from contamination.

Because of the risk to public health, council food and safety officers closed the premises using a Hygiene Emergency Prohibition Notice.

The restaurant reopened once the premises were pest free and adequate cleaning had been completed.

But during another check in November, officers discovered poor food handling practices and found poor personal hygiene among staff.

A representative of the restaurant owner, Xing Yu

The former owners have been fined over hygiene issues last year

Investment Ltd, attended Luton Magistrates' Court on Monday, August 19 and pleaded guilty to seven food hygiene offences.

Magistrates imposed fines totalling £9,380 and ordered the company to pay the council £1,800 towards prosecution costs.

The court gave credit to the company for sending staff on training and having the premises cleaned, but said they had to balance this with the risk to public health.

The restaurant is now under new ownership.

Decision on Syria must now be respected

SIR – It is satisfactory to note that the government has come out, in the form of Philip Hammond MP, the defence secretary and said that unless there is significant change, it will not bring back to Parliament the issue of becoming part of a war on Syria.

Well this is a clear and empathetic statement and must be accepted on its face value.

It is at the same time regrettable to note that there has been constant murmuring in the press about the decision and all major dailies and electronic outlets have led their news agenda as if there has already been a major change since the vote last Thursday when British people rightly decided through their Members of Parliament not to be part of any war on Syria. And the Prime Minister, from the despatch box, said that he has got the message.

Now, that decision must be respected for all the right reasons and any disappointments must be taken on the chin by those who disagree with the outcome of that vote. That is democracy for all of us.

We cannot be selective. We can understand the hawkish point of view, but it was not just a win by 13 votes, it was a decision of historic importance, and it is being suggested that it was the first since 1726.

Motions in names of Prime Ministers hardly get defeated all over the world, indeed the post itself becomes the force for motions of all kinds to go through.

When motions are linked to violations of human rights issues, where deaths of thousands have happened and the destruction of infrastructure in a country, people become emotionally involved and want to improve situations. That is human nature and Syria is no different.

Why did the coalition lose the motion? There can be many explanations but most would agree that the whole subject was handled with indecent haste. The way the government developed the idea of becoming part of the American led aerial attack on Syria, came across as if they were urgently chasing a fast-moving situation, where nothing was definite and all was in the air.

Let us not be part of war mongering and playing to unreal situations. Public opinion is not for war this time and we should not be pushed into accepting it. Britain should continue to play a positive role to get this situation dealt with without war if possible.

Bring back Sir Jeremy Greenstock our former UN representative at the United Nations from retirement and place him in our UN office with authority, and things will get moving. There is a long, diplomatic road ahead and we are quite good at it historically. Akbar Dad Khan, Building Bridges, Luton

Tablets not the answer

SIR – Our bumbling PCC has announced with great fanfare that our bobbies are to be given tablets which will enable them to spend less time in the office and more time with their customers.

Of course the tablets in question are of the electronic variety rather than the sort normally taken with a glass of water. But the analogy is too tempting.

While the patient – in this case Beds police force – is certainly in need of urgent attention, prescribing something for a headache is to miss the big picture.

If the over-paid surgeon could just stand back for a long moment he might just notice that palliative care is not appropriate at this time and nothing short of major surgery is likely to have any significant effect.

Mr Martins needs to grasp the facts. Further swinging cuts to police budgets are not going to be compensated for by making tiny efficiency savings. A whole new re-think is required.

The patient is about to be torn apart by competing demands on its diminishing resources and the surgeon-in-chief is unable to come up with anything better than aspirin?

The job of PCC is a very powerful one, and it comes with very big boots. Sadly all the indications to date are that Mr Martins' feet are nowhere near big enough to fill them.

Giving shiny new toys to his staff may help bolster morale for a few days but is unlikely to make up for all the negative blows they've had to endure recently.

What must morale be like in an organisation where its highly trained staff are sent out on cold winter's nights with the sole objective of harassing sad little men hoping to meet drugged-up prostitutes; and knowing full well that five minutes after they've left things will be back to 'situation normal'?

Olly Martins should take his sticky, inept politicians hands out of the patient's writhing torso and set about devising strategies to ensure the survival and fitness of the force. As I've pointed out before: doing the same things only better is not going to be good enough.

Bedfordshire's police deserve better. And so do we.

Ron Turvey,
Stanmore Crescent, Luton

Our park is beautiful

SIR – In defence of Leagrave Park, which was harshly criticised last week, I'd like to point out that the park is well cared-for, with areas for bowls, cricket, football and rugby, plus a riverside walk which in its more natural, unlandscaped state, is ideal for nurturing wildlife and for peaceful, meditative strolls.

The trees lining the road are beautiful at every time of year.

Much work has been done, by the council and volunteers, to improve access and use of the park – a community arts festival for all ages was held there last week, for the third year running.

Such efforts need our support, not criticism, which discourages those working for the park, and deters others from going there.

It's a lovely area – go and see for yourselves!

Revd E Cockbill,
Sundon Park Baptist Church, Luton

I want to work too

SIR – I am writing to your paper as a fellow English man who has been out of work for a while.

I was out for two months. I sent out around 30 CVs as they do not accept written ones any more – but they are rubbish and never answer you back.

I've been to lots of building sites, including one in Luton as I am a carpenter. They asked if I could speak Polish. I said I'm English and a proud Lutonian.

I've been working for agencies but the money is rubbish. And you have to pay another company to get paid.

Cameron and those other idiots should not worry about going to war with Syria – they should get us out of the EU and make England, England again.

Another fed up English man,
Address supplied

Glad MPs listened

SIR – I am delighted that common sense has finally prevailed in Parliament after the UK has wasted billions and sacrificed the lives of many young soldiers on pointless wars which have left Iraq, Afghanistan and Libya in a much worse state than prior to our intervention.

Tony Blair's slavish devotion to American foreign policy has been a disaster particularly in Iraq, which has resulted in the deaths of thousands of innocent civilians who are still losing their lives or being badly injured.

I think it was a good day for democracy with MPs listening to the people who were dismayed with Cameron's ill thought out plans for another risky military adventure.

Surely painstaking diplomacy is the only solution to end the horrendous suffering of the Syrian people.

Mrs Pam Bree,
West Hill Road, Luton

Stop gas price rises

SIR – Forget Syria.

A failure to stop energy companies who keep putting their gas prices up will result in thousands dying of hypothermia, because they can't afford to heat their homes.

John Tucker,
Bracklesham Gardens, Luton

Your comments on the stories on our website this week:

Airline sponsors lights

@SONIC_SINCLAIR: It's a sad way to deal with this issue. Another negative vibe to the town. Why not invest in LED lights, a tiny budget needed???

@masekwm: Things like fireworks and Southend airshow being cancelled amaze me, these things bring trade and parking to towns.

@LutonEye: easyJet – now someone to sponsor the fireworks perhaps?

Council ban smoking

@stephanieellroy: Can LBC be serious with their new no smoking policy? What about human rights and not forgetting that smoking is an addiction.

What will it be next, no LBC employee will be allowed to be seen eating junk food amid health fears?

@midlandcottages: It's a pity more companies don't bring this ban on smokers. It's not fair when people have to work while they go and smoke.

Clive Hawkins – Who do Luton council think they are treating their workers like this. It's well out of order. The human rights should take it up.

Judy Spelman – I agree they shouldn't nip out when they are working. During tea and lunch breaks they can do what they like.

Karen Be – Maybe they will answer their phones a bit quicker if they are not having fags. They should do that in their own time.

Cops to get tablets

@christofflenon: Keeping up with technology is no bad thing. Hopefully it will prove to save time/money and mean police can spend more time out on the streets, and not just turn into a 'give-a-copper an iPad' gimmick.

@JohnEJefferson: Yep and we'll be able to make citizen's arrest via Skype. Hardly radical. More like the guy just walked out of Life on Mars!!

@hayleysol: I would rather have more colleagues assisting with the workload. #overstretched @OllyMartins: @hayleysol I know. Decision on recruitment anticipated soon but sadly overall strength still going down. IT is to help cope.

@keatingpa: Absolutely! Given the demand on resources and time it takes to process paperwork it's a no-brainer!

A MIDST the tension and hyperbole around whether we should set about bombing another country in the Middle East, it has been interesting to see what Americans, and the American press, are saying. Not known for being over-critical, many are reporting that America has to do what America has to do, and not standing for global injustice is what makes them American.

That and being the world's greatest hypocrites.

Using chemical weapons is an outrage, unless of course delivered by the USA.

Still people are dying in Nha Trang, Vietnam, through Agent Orange, a chemical weapon which contains dioxin, the most poisonous chemical known. No apology, or even acknowledgement of the harm done, and being done, by the USA.

And more recently, white phosphorus, a chemical that burns fiercely, cannot be easily extinguished, and melts the skin, was used in Iraq by the Allied forces against both insurgents and civilians.

British minister Michael Gove was very upset at losing the vote in the Commons to bomb Syria, mainly because of children being killed in that country by chemical weapons.

Chemical weapons are only evil in other hands

I may be unfair to him but I do not remember such emotion each time an American 'drone' has killed children in Pakistan, Afghanistan and the Yemen.

These of course are facts, unlike the news that the Syrian Government is using chemical weapons. But we know they are, a Government minister told us, because 'our intelligence forces have the evidence'.

Just like those weapons of mass destruction then. It is not unheard of for governments to lie to their people when they want to go to war. And it is not unknown for governments to dress up their own self interest as though they are behaving honourably.

When South Africa was brutalising its people, neither the USA or the UK would even countenance sanctions.

And, of course, Israel can behave as badly as it likes, and break as many UN sanctions as it likes, and all it gets is more money and more weapons.

There is no doubt that the people of Syria, like many other countries in the Middle East of recent years, are suffering terribly.

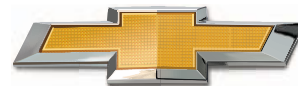

There is also no doubt that the West, and indeed recently other super-powers, are at least partly to blame. There is also the strong possibility that any military action will make matters worse, even though it may make a few politicians briefly feel good about themselves.

With regard to Somalia, Africa is itself clearing up the mess, after the USA and the UN had failed spectacularly. Perhaps it would make more sense to involve the rest of the Middle East in the solution, and the policing of the area. There's a radical thought.

Master Chef is best in the East!

MY favourite takeaway has to be an Indian. Curry, naan bread, poppadoms...

So I was more than just a bit excited to visit Master Chef in Hart Lane, who have just won the 'Takeaway of the Year' for the Eastern region at the annual English Curry Awards earlier this week.

Achieving this honour is no mean feat, with over 7,000 eateries entering the competition this year.

After nominations were considered, Master Chef made it through to the final shortlist, alongside Golden Spice, from Cambridge and the Essex-based Shikha Indian Takeaway. This is when the competition really began to heat up, with judges making anonymous visits to the establishments to taste a variety of dishes on the menus.

But on Monday the wait was over and at a grand ceremony in Manchester, Master Chef were announced as worthy winners.

Suruk Miah, who has run the takeaway since 1998, said that he was 'delighted' to receive the honour.

He added: "I would like to thank all of our customers who have supported the restaurant and nominated us for this award."

"I also want to thank all of the staff. We have a great team here and it is great to be recognised in this way."

"I am very proud that Master Chef has been declared the Takeaway of the Year for the east of

PROUD: The team at Master Chef show off their award, and (below) show how to make naan bread

England – I was delighted when we were shortlisted! “We had managed to get on the shortlist last year, but to go one better this year is absolutely fantastic.”

Taking the trip behind the scenes at the Hart Lane takeaway, I was astonished to see the vast array of spices and fresh vegetables that go into creating some of our favourite dishes.

As Suruk set to work creating a curry to show me just how it is done, he said: “Chicken Tikka Massala and Baltis are our most popular dishes, but I think we really do have something for everyone on our menu.”

“Hopefully now that we have won the award more customers will come and try our food, which is something that we are really looking forward to.

“We want to share our curries with as many people as possible.”

And with that, the Chicken Korma was finished hot and ready to taste – and there was even a freshly baked naan bread on the side.

The chefs here made this authentic cooking look like an art form with speed and precision – something that I definitely could not replicate at home!

Master Chef is based at 76a Hart Lane, Luton, and can be contacted by calling 01582 480202.

Halal meat back on menu at sixth form college

THE start of the new academic year has seen the reintroduction of Halal meat at Luton Sixth Form College.

Halal dishes had been temporarily withdrawn from the menu at the college's Westside Restaurant in May.

The move was a precautionary measure after concerns from the Luton Council of Mosques about how meat was certified.

The college has now sourced new suppliers approved by the Halal Monitoring Committee (HMC), an independent organisation whose main aim is to certify the production of genuine Halal food.

Kay Stott, the college's head of catering, said: "We are now certified by the HMC and we will have a local person from the mosque come in once a month to do the necessary checks and give us an authorisation stamp."

"A selection of both Halal and non-Halal meat options, as well as vegetarian dishes, will now be available daily."

Joint celebration to 'promote acceptance'

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

IN A SIGNIFICANT initiative, Jamia Islamia Ghouseia Trust invited almost 100 people from different backgrounds to come together and share the joy of Eid-ul-Fitr at the Mosque on Westbourne Road, Luton.

Allama Qazi Abdul Aziz Chishti, Senior Imam and director of the Mosque highlighted the importance of strengthening mutual friendship, peace and understanding across different faiths in a town as diverse as Luton.

Other guest speakers (pictured) included a number of councillors, Luton North MP Kelvin Hopkins, Rt Rev Dr Richard Atkinson (Bishop of Bedford and Luton) and Zafar Khan (Chair of Luton Council of Faiths).

After the formal talks, food was served and guests were given the opportunity to mingle informally before a recitation from the Holy Quran was made.

Natu Bhai, a Hindu and also the joint vice chairman of Luton Council of Faiths said: "Standing with people of different backgrounds, we do not just reflect the diversity of our town, but also promote acceptance while rejecting hatred and prejudice."

Support charity by donating your items

BRITISH Heart Foundation (BHF) shops are launching their biggest stock donation appeal, the Great British Bag-a-thon, with an event at The Mall Luton on Tuesday.

The shops are urging the community to join in and fill bags with unwanted items for the event to help fight heart disease.

The scheme will be launched by the Mayor of Luton, Sheila Roden, when she donates the first bag of items at 1pm on the launch day.

Between September 10-13 volunteers will be in The Mall giving out stock donation bags and asking shoppers to fill them with unwanted clothes, books, and toys, and then take them to the shop.

Julian Dow at The Mall said: "It's the perfect opportunity to have a clear out and donate items to raise vital funds."

Ladies lose pounds to raise Keech cash

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

TWENTY women from local Slimming World groups in both Luton and Dunstable have signed up to take part in Keech Hospice Care Star Walk.

The ladies will be shedding pounds but also raising money to help local hospices that support families at their time of need.

The new 10-mile Star Walk event is a refresh of the charity's previous Midnight Walk.

It is scheduled to take place on Saturday, September 14 at the slightly earlier time of 10.30pm to give the ladies a chance to hit the town in their outfits after the event.

Heather Angove, consultant at the groups said: "We are so thrilled to be supporting such a worthy local cause."

"Our ladies are hoping to raise a lot of money for the hospice while at the same time losing some weight."

This year the Star Walk has a variety of Keech celebrity supporters, such as Eastenders actor Jake Wood and cricketer Monty Panesar.

Registration for the event is £15.

To sign up, visit www.keech.org.uk/starwalk or call 01582 707940.

We've got lights, now it's the trees!

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

FOLLOWING the announcement that easyJet will fund this year's Christmas lights in Luton, the council is now calling for sponsors to pay for the Christmas trees too.

The price to sponsor the two trees which will sit outside the Town Hall is £4,000, and businesses will be able to display two banners in front of the trees.

The council is aiming to "boost the town's profile, support local businesses, show off local talent and create a buzz for Christmas and New Year".

A council spokeswoman said: "Based on the previous turnout for this occasion we are expecting around 20,000 people throughout the day so your business will get a large exposure to the community. "Hopefully, St George's Square will also be the home once again to a local Christmas market offering traditional fare and gifts, alongside the ice rink."

Once sponsorship has been confirmed the company will be credited on www.luton.gov.uk/Christmas.

Any businesses with enquiries should contact the Luton Borough Council Sponsorship and Advertising Team on 01582 547325 or email marketing@luton.gov.uk.

Help support the new Children in Need appeal

SUPPORT: Union J are asking Lutonians to back the appeal

BOYBAND Union J are calling on everyone in the town to get behind Pudsey and start fundraising for BBC Children in Need as they kick off the 2013 campaign.

Union J, including Luton-born band member Jaymi Hensley, have joined Sir Terry Wogan, Gary Barlow, Matt Baker, and Nick Grimshaw to kick start this year's BBC Children in Need Campaign.

They are all calling on the Great British Public to once again get fundraising to help raise millions for disadvantaged children right here in the UK.

The official fundraising pack is available from bbc.co.uk/Pudsey and is jam-packed with ideas to help people raise money.

Interesting storyline but Elysium is no comparison to the hit film District 9

FILM REVIEW

Elysium (15)
Director: Neill Blomkamp

AFTER all the fanfare, Neill Blomkamp's second sci-fi outing doesn't reach the hefty heights he achieved with his 2009 breakout film District 9.

This Matt Damon and Jodie Foster headlined action-drama still provides a solid watch – but doesn't really fulfill the potential shown in the trailer.

As South African director Blomkamp had set the bar so high, our thirst was already quenched expecting something simply out-of-this-world – but in the end Elysium turns out to be pretty generic.

That's despite an intriguing premise, which sees the very wealthy live on a disease-free man-made space station orbiting the planet – with security run by Jodie Foster's (complete with weird accent that hampers her performance) ruthless defence secretary Delacourt – and the rest of the population living on a ruined Earth.

Enter ex-convict Max (Damon), who must get to this idyllic Utopia to save his life after being hit by an incurable bout of radiation – and in the process gets his hands on Delacourt's plans to overthrow Elysium's president as he's turned into a (kind of) super soldier.

Again, like in District 9, Sharlto Copley (who played the lead in that film) is the best human aspect in this, playing deranged ex-military man Kruger hired by Delacourt to do her dirty work on Earth – and he's sent to try and stop Max achieving his goal.

While there's much to enjoy with Blomkamp's beautifully crafted polarising worlds and some decent set-pieces, the film seems to run out of concrete ideas very early.

This leaves it plodding towards the inevitable finale, with the 'shanty' townships on Earth unfortunately giving a distinct feeling of District 9 – with robots substituting aliens.

Despite good performances from Copley and the ever-reliable Damon – counter-acting an indifferent one from Foster – it never really escapes District 9's shadow with more than a handful of production similarities.

This in turn puts Blomkamp's

'genius' tag temporarily on hold – but he still does enough to garner admiration.

Cast: Matt Damon, Sharlto Copley, Jodie Foster, Alice Braga, Wagner Moura, Diego Luna, William Fichtner, Faran Tahir, Emma Tremblay

Wind art project celebrates history of Dunstable

ART

WIND CHARMERS

Dunstable Downs

Sunday, September 15, 2pm

DUNSTABIANS of all ages will be gathering on the Dunstable Downs to celebrate the town, its landscape, and the wind that brings it to life – and you can join in too.

Participants should meet outside the National Trust Chilterns Gateway Centre at 2pm next Sunday, where you can dress up, share stories about the wind and make your own additions to a giant shining kite.

This will be launched into the sky above the Downs as the event culminates, taking with it the stories, hopes and dreams of the people of Dunstable.

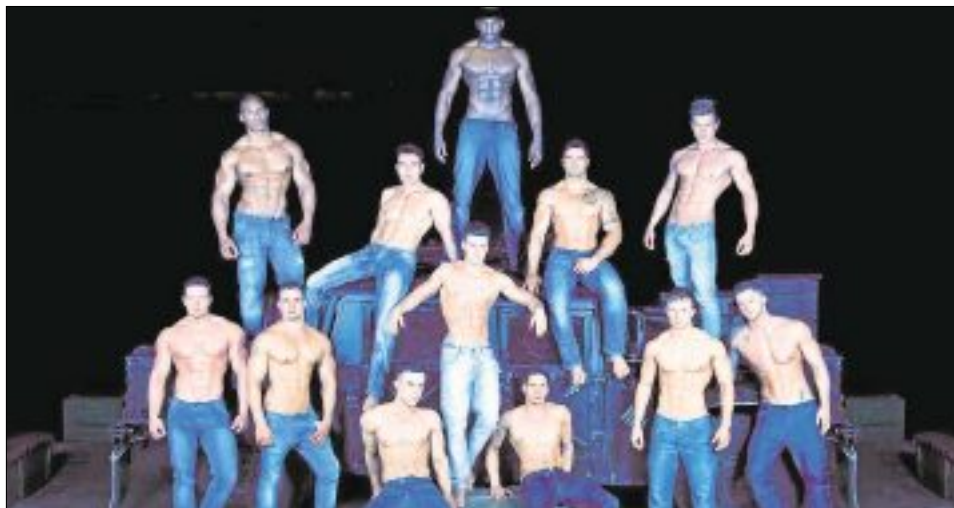

More than 200 locals have been busy at events throughout the summer, making costumes and kites for this celebration.

These 'wind charmers' have been out and about in the town catching the breezes that weave their way in and out of the town.

With long strips of mirrors attached from their back, the wind charmers collected the lost wind, and in return the wind makes them dance.

Now that enough wind has been caught, the wind charmers will meet on the Downs to take it back where it belongs, dancing to bring all the small breezes together into one strong wind.

This is the culmination of a year-long art project led by artist Laurence Payot to define what is important and meaningful for residents in Dunstable today.

CAP THAT

The Renault Captur launches into a market of compact crossover vehicles such as the Nissan Juke and the Skoda Yeti but brings with it some genuinely clever interior touches and no small dose of style. Some super-economical engines also feature. Expect the Captur to attract the sort of buyer who likes the way the Nissan Juke drives but who would prefer prettier styling.

The interior is the big draw here, and the big draw of the interior is the big drawer. Yep, instead of the usual glove box, Renault has installed an 11-litre handled drawer that's about as capacious as a bedside cabinet you'd get from IKEA. There are other smart ideas as well, such as the zip-off seat coverings that can be washed or changed for different designs and colours.

The engine line-up comprises the Energy TCe 90 engine which will probably be the big seller. The first three-cylinder powerplant ever produced by Renault, this turbocharged 899cc unit comes with Stop&Start. Diesel buyers can choose from a couple of versions of the Energy dCi 90 1.5-litre engine. I'd have liked to have seen an all-wheel drive version with a diesel engine but that doesn't seem to be in Renault's immediate plans and even with drive just going to the front wheels, the Captur looks a fun and appealing thing with a wholesomely practical side too. Cheeky, versatile and cost-effective, with smart engine tech and a stylish interior, the Captur looks to have put quite a few of its immediate rivals in a tight spot.

Late penalty condemns Luton to opening loss

BY TIM BARTLETT
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON RFC travelled to Eton Manor on the opening day of their London North 1 campaign and found themselves on the wrong end of a 19-18 scoreline.

With 30 seconds to play, the travelling Lutonians were undone by a penalty that was to be the last kick of the game.

"We didn't start in the gear we needed," said Luton's backs coach Nick Rhodes.

"It was only in the final 20 minutes that we played to our strengths, we've a deadly set of backs, but we're just not supporting them."

This sentiment was shared by head coach Paul Turner.

"It was a disappointing day, two good teams playing badly," he said. "We've got bags of talent, but we just need to close games out."

Luton's points came from Dave Irvine and Jake Hobbs tries, with two penalties and a conversion from Rik Hobbs.

STOCKWOOD PARK were also undone in the dying seconds, away at Finchley in a friendly, having been level at 21-21 until a penalty kick finished the game 24-21 to the home side.

Trailing 21-7 at the interval, with just a David Keating try to show for their efforts, Stockwood Park responded to Rod Keating's half-time team talk with Alex Lovell and Justin Harkin going over to tie the scores. The reliable boot of player/chairman Jason Carr added six converted points to Stockwood Park's tally.

Indians at the double as county holds finals day

THREE champion sides were crowned at the Bedfordshire Youth Cricket League Finals day, with matches played over 20 overs at Flitwick CC.

In the U16s final, Luton Town and Indians, pictured, came out on top against Clifton by 80 runs. Khuram Farooq scored 55 and Mohammed Essa helped himself to 40 as Indians batted first.

They then finished the job with the ball with Shaan Ahmed Zai taking three wickets in Clifton's reply.

Indians also came out on top in the U14 final which they won by 48 runs against Queens Park Youth CC.

Javed top scored with 42 and Rashid Afridi made a swift 34 not out from 14 balls in Indians' total of 131-4, and Queens Park were bowled out for 83.

In the U12 final, Bedford CC prevented Indians from claiming a hat-trick with a 39 run victory.

Bedford were dismissed for 101 as they batted first, and were then superb in the field as Indians were restricted to 62-9.

Hatters play out another 0-0 draw

SKRILL PREMIER
LUTON TOWN
GRIMSBY TOWN

BY TOM SHARP
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

IT MIGHT have been Non-League Day but Luton and Grimsby certainly did not serve up an advert for lower-division football as the Hatters played out their third goalless draw in four Skrill Premier matches.

With the BT Sport cameras in attendance, Paul Benson carved out Town's best opportunities, all coming in the first period, but there was to be no winner in this hard-fought but ultimately fruitless encounter.

Benson's signing came before the transfer window closed but perhaps Still is now regretting not adding more firepower to the Hatters' frustrating frontline.

Town drop to 13th and despite their decent start they need to start turning good performances into wins with seven games now gone.

Since a first-day defeat at Southport, the Hatters have shown a pluckiness that has reaped encouraging rewards in both the points scored and goals against columns.

Despite Still's bold statement that he had seen his side perform best in a goalless stalemate at Forest Green a fortnight ago, Luton undoubtedly claimed their most fruitful win of the campaign to date last weekend.

A 2-0 triumph over last season's Conference play-off semi-finalists Kidderminster Harriers, fuelled by two Jake Howells' penalties, was another feather in the cap of an ever-improving Town side with a fourth clean sheet to boot.

With the Hatters starting to stockpile impressive returns the tough early schedule rolled on with the visit of highly fancied Grimsby in front of the television cameras.

Luton's task looked a tad simpler on paper after Friday's suspension of one of the Mariners' joint managers Rob Scott for unbeknownst reasons at present and the no-show of top scorer Liam Hearn.

BATTLING CRY: Steve McNulty

With Paul Hurst now in sole charge, the Lincolnshire club were looking for their first league win at Kenilworth Road since August 2003.

Standing in their way was a Luton side identical to the one that so emphatically disposed of Harriers last week.

Loan signing Benson, making his home debut for Town, continued alongside Andre Gray in attack due to the absence of Jon Shaw while Andy Parry kept his place on the right-hand side of midfield.

Luton were camped in the visitors' half for much of the early going and were unlucky not to find themselves ahead in a one-sided opening quarter.

The crafty Benson almost latched on to a weak defensive header from centre-back Shaun Pearson in the 24th minute but he lashed his 12-yard shot just wide.

In the wake of Scott's absence, Grimsby looked a team out of ideas. Alex Rodman's 34th minute free kick was the best chance they could muster, firing just over.

The heavens opened moments before half time but the goal drought continued.

Perhaps BT's coverage should have been titled "The Benson Show" as the 33-year-old was yet again denied.

In a yard of space, his left-foot shot was goal-bound but Shaun Pearson's timely intervention allowed Grimsby to scurry in at the break clinging to a clean sheet.

Town's backline then underwent renovation as Alex Lacey, forced off with a knock suffered in the first period, was replaced by debutant Jim Stevenson with Parry slotting in at centre-back.

The purposeful nature of the Hatters' first-half work had slightly dissipated as Grimsby found a foothold in the game, much to the delight of their travelling 265 followers.

McNulty's iron stomach was the last line of defence to deny Rodman's fierce 64th-minute shot as the visitors looked a shadow of the meek side that battled in the first half.

At the other end, Gray, unusually quiet by his own standards, was hauled off in the 71st minute and replaced by Shaun Whalley.

The agitated home faithful sang Still's name but a second successive goalless draw at Kenilworth Road would not satisfy the masses.

Luton's final roll of the dice came in the form of Alex Wall preferred to Mark Cullen with five minutes to go but despite a couple of scares Grimsby headed back up North with a well-deserved point.

Luton - Tyler; Henry (capt), McNulty, Lacey (Stevenson, 45), Griffiths; Parry, Smith, Guttridge (Wall, 84), Howells; Benson, Gray (Whalley, 71). Subs not used - Cullen, Justham.

Grimsby Town - McKeown; Bignot, Doig, Pearson, Goodall; Disley (Thanoj, 88), McLaughlin, Kerr; Colbeck (Cook, 87), John-Lewis, Rodman (Neilson, 80). Subs not used - McDonald, Hannah. Att: 6,131 (265)

Ten man Town win and AFC face a replay

LOCAL FOOTBALL

BY MATT DESAI
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

TEN-man DUNSTABLE TOWN romped to a crushing 4-0 away win over Aylesbury on Saturday afternoon in the Southern League Central.

Two first-half goals set the visitors well on their way, despite having a penalty saved in the opening few minutes.

Aylesbury started the match brighter than their opponents after being shaken into life by an early Rhys Marshall penalty save.

Dunstable took their chances when they came though, and Tony Burnett got Town off and running on the half-hour mark, before midfielder Adam Watkins doubled their advantage on the stroke of half-time.

Matt Nolan added a third in the 60th minute, with Lee Roache netting just a minute later to see the visitors home in style, before being sent off with twenty minutes to play. Town are third.

BARTON ROVERS also recorded an away victory as they grounded out a 1-0 win over Chertsey Town in the same division.

Nat Peacock grabbed the game's only goal when he was put in the clear after just four minutes.

The league's top marksman didn't have it all his own way however, and was red carded in the latter stages of the first-half.

Barton battled on though and could have doubled their lead late on, but Liam McDavitt had his penalty saved, as Rovers stay second in the league.

Elsewhere, AFC DUNSTABLE will have to go to a replay with AFC Rushden & Diamonds after their 1-1 draw in the FA Vase.

Chris Francis rolled defender Alex Deakin to give The OD's a first-half lead with a neat finish.

Russell Dunkley headed the visitors level with half an hour to play after getting on the end of Fazel Koriya's free-kick.

Neither side could find a goal in extra time of the first round qualifier and there was no shoot-out.

Tireless work to get the forwards firing

BY DAN PALMER

dan.palmer@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town manager John Still has admitted that he has worked extensively on the Hatters' attacking play in a bid to get the club's misfiring forward line firing.

Yesterday's 0-0 draw at home to Grimsby was the fourth time Town have drawn a blank already this season, and the Hatters have only registered five times in all, none of which were netted by a striker.

This attacking lapse has been offset significantly by a superb defence which has only leaked two goals, but Still is keen for his side to click at both ends of the park.

"We've done a lot of work, if I'm honest, in that area," the manager said at his press conference this week.

"But for various reasons it hasn't quite been as we would like it.

"And without trying to make this sound like an excuse, it is an excuse if that makes sense.

"Jon Shaw's not been quite 100 per cent fit and that's been a blow.

"Alex Wall hasn't been able to be included, and it has been a bit of a blow that we haven't really had a focal point to play off properly.

"I do like to have what I would call a focal point to play with and we haven't really had that at its best.

"That's not to say that if we had it we would have played any better, though, but I think it would have helped our ball retention a little bit better in the final third, which may have helped.

"I think with Paul Benson coming in and with Alex Wall getting fitter it's something that hopefully will keep improving."

New signing Benson, loaned from League One club Swindon Town until the end of the season, says that he has settled in at the club after a promising start to life as a Hatter.

"The manager assured me that it was a good group of lads here but I would go one better and say it is a great group," said the forward. "It has made it easy to blend in so far."

Rendell looks set for loan after late transfer collapse

FOOTBALL

UNWANTED Hatters striker Scott Rendell looks set to be sent out on loan after a deal which would have seen him leave Kenilworth Road permanently collapsed at the 11th hour on Deadline Day.

Luton manager John Still revealed that the transfer listed forward was close to departing until the buying club's chairman pulled the plug on the move late on.

The lateness of the U-turn ruled out finding Rendell another club but with the loan window now due to open he could be sent out temporarily with a view to a permanent move.

"A deal was done but the club he was going to, the chairman stopped it really," said Still.

"It wasn't the last minute, it was the last minute after the last minute.

"That made it impossible to do anything else because there was something else we could have done.

"But it's happened, it's football, and we have to get on with it.

"It's dead in the water regarding that club now, but now that the loan window opens in this coming week, it's something we may revisit with another club in the way of a loan first."

Town's only activity before the transfer window closed on Monday night was to send another listed player – Lathaniel Rowe-Turner – out on loan to Skrilf Premier rivals Alfreton.

The full-back's deal runs until January 2.

He will not be allowed to feature against the Hatters when the club clash with Nicky Law's side in the league in December.
